

Mt Ararat ski tour 6-day programme

Six Day Ski Tour of Mt Ararat: Starting in the City of Van this tour will give you 4 days on the mountain and involve camping and skiing in harsh and difficult environments. After climbing and skiing, with altitude acclimatisation, you will achieve the summit of Ararat (5137m) on day 5 before skiing the descent. This tour requires a high degree of fitness and skiing ability.

Day 1: Arrive Van. Transfer to Dogubayazit. Overnight Dogubayazit.

Day 2: Transfer from Dogubayazit to 1800m by truck at 7am. From here, we start our climb of Mt Ararat by skiing up to 2800m (1st camp, 4 hours). We pitch tents and hot food is served for dinner.

Day 3: Start the second day of our Mt Ararat tour early in the morning (at 8am), and reach 3800m (2nd camp) by cross-country skiing (4 hours). We pitch tents and hot food is served for dinner.

Day 4: Start in the morning at 8am, ascent to 4600m for acclimatisation, return to the 2nd camp at 3800m. Today's all-day cross-country skiing helps to ensure the success of reaching Mt Ararat summit. Hot food is served for dinner.

Day 5: Start at 5am, ascent by ski up to 4700m, then climb (using crampons) up to the summit of Mt Ararat (5137m). We reach the summit by about 10am. We return to the 2nd camp, where hot soup and tea is served. After some rest, we pack the tents and return to 1800m by ski. There, the truck is already waiting for us and takes us back to Dogubayazit

Day 6: Transfer to Van. Overnight Van
